Using Focus mode during lectures or meetings

The Focus mode feature enables the meeting hosts and co-hosts to view all the participants' videos without other participants seeing each other.

When the lecturer (the host) or any participant with co-host privileges enables the Focus mode, the students can see their own video, the host's and co-hosts' videos, the screens shared by the hosts/co-hosts and the videos of any students spotlighted by the lecturer. Other than that, the students will only see the other students' names, their emoji reactions, and hear them when unmuted.

The Focus mode can be turned on and off during a lecture. For example, a lecturer can turn the Focus mode while presenting, and then turn it off when it's time for a class discussion (e.g. in breakout rooms).
The host or co-host can enable the Focus mode during a lecture/meeting:

1. Click More... on the meeting toolbar.

2. Click Start Focus Mode.

3. Click Start to confirm.

The host or co-host can disable the Focus mode during a lecture/meeting:

1. Click More... on the meeting toolbar.

2. Click Stop Focus Mode.

When the Focus mode is enabled or disabled, all participants are notified with a banner along the top of the video window.
