Syllabus

(Available in September)

Paper I, Oral (20 mins) + Paper II(3 hrs) + Paper III(3 hrs)

An oral of about 20 minutes and two 3 hour papers are set.

In Paper I which is the oral examination, candidates must show ability in handling a listening comprehension and in speaking fluent Arabic on a given topic.

In Papers II and III which are written examinations, candidates must show competence in advanced Arabic grammar and vocabulary. Where the essay is concerned, they must show creativity and ability in dealing with various types of topics, e.g. descriptive, argumentative, narrative. They must also show ability in reading unpointed Arabic and in supplying all vowel marks on unpointed Arabic text. Clarity, and orderly presentation of all the answers will be expected.

Unless otherwise specified, as in Question (d) of Paper II where vocalisation is obligatory, the Arabic script used in answers may be presented in pointed or unpointed form, i.e. fully vocalised or not.

The questions to Section A and Section B in Paper III Questions 1 - 6 in Paper II may be answered in Arabic, English, or Maltese.
